

Listening to the Voices of Minorities and Researchers on Building Trust and Capacity for Respectful Engagement

San Diego Convention Center ♦ San Diego, CA
December 5, 2010 ♦ 8:30 AM-5:30 PM

FACULTY

Stephen B. Thomas, PhD

Professor, Department of Health Services Administration
Director, University of Maryland Center for Health Equity
School of Public Health
University of Maryland

Sandra Crouse Quinn, PhD

Associate Dean for Public Health Initiatives
Professor, Department of Family Science
School of Public Health
University of Maryland

David Barnard, PhD, JD

Professor of Medicine and Law
University of Pittsburgh
Center for Bioethics and Health Law

James Butler, DrPH, MEd

Assistant Professor, Department of Public &
Community Health
University of Maryland
Center for Health Equity
School of Public Health
University of Maryland

Jonas Chaney

Standardized Patient At the Advanced Clinical Education Center

Craig S. Fryer, DrPH, MPH

Assistant Professor, Department of Public and
Community Health
University of Maryland
Center for Health Equity
School of Public Health
University of Maryland

Mary Garza, PhD, MPH

Assistant Professor, Department of Public &
Community Health
University of Maryland
Center for Health Equity
School of Public Health
University of Maryland

Meleah Himber, MEd

Curriculum Developer,
Building Trust
University of Pittsburgh
Graduate School of Public Health

This full-day program will include both didactic and experiential components from the NIH Bioethics Research Infrastructure Initiative: Building Trust Between Minorities and Researchers. In the morning, the principal investigators of this initiative will discuss the results of a survey of researchers and IRB members concerning their experience with minority participation in research. They will then present components of their curriculum aimed at building the capacity of researchers and IRBs to engage more effectively with minority communities. In the afternoon, the faculty will present selected results from a national survey of African Americans and Latinos, followed by an interactive session based on a curriculum for community members. There will be ample opportunity for discussion and feedback.

Agenda*

7:00 AM	Registration
7:00-8:30 AM	Continental Breakfast
8:30-9:00 AM	Welcome and Introduction
9:00-10:15 AM	Perspectives from the Research World: Data from an Online Survey of Researchers, Staff, and IRBs
10:15-10:30 AM	Break
10:30 AM-12:00 PM	Building Trust: Introduction to the Curriculum for Researchers, Recruiters, and IRB Members/Staff
12:00-1:00 PM	Boxed Lunch
1:00-2:30 PM	Voices of African Americans and Latinos on Research: Selected Results from a Telephone Survey
2:30-2:45 PM	Break

Agenda

---

2:45-4:30 PM

Engaging with Research: Development of Curriculum for Minority Communities

4:30-5:00 PM

Questions and feedback

5:00-5:30 PM

Summary, lessons learned, next steps

5:30 PM

Adjournment

\ Please note the agenda is subject to change.*