Registration is now open for PRIM&R's 2018 Advancing Ethical Research Conference (AER18). The conference will take place November 15-17 at the San Diego Convention Center, and the AER18 Preconference Programs will take place on November 14 at the Manchester Grand Hyatt San Diego. We're looking forward to the conference, and want to give you a first look at what's in store for this year's meeting. More >

In the News

President Trump recently signed into law the Right to Try Act of 2017. Long-standing questions about what “right to try” means, both for the FDA and oversight bodies persist. Experts are now highlighting how the vaguely written law may force oversight bodies to determine, on their own, what their role should be in ensuring patient protections when it comes to accessing investigational drugs under the law. Government and Legal Updates

FDA has recently taken a series of actions to promote the enrollment of women in research. At an event held during National Women's Health Week, FDA Commissioner Scott Gottlieb summarized their efforts to address long-standing concerns about the under-representation of women in clinical research. Women's health experts and others are applauding the agency's proactive measures. More >
